

I still remember the afternoon I decided I was no longer a commercial radio listener. I was being assaulted by commercials and broadcasters boasting that they had over 20 minutes of advertising in the past hour. The silence after I turned the radio off was wonderful. It was at that moment I decided to go to XM radio. I have never looked back. XM is the best thing that has happened to broadcasting since Mr. Hertz!!! XM local traffic broadcasts are GREAT! Forcing me to turn to local commercial stations for local traffic means that I'll just do without them. At this point, I believe I will NEVER going back to commercial radio. Let them compete fairly and give me something worth listening to and they just might win me back. Limiting ones competitors broadcasting content is well, sort of anti-American, isn't it? Set my XM FREE! ! ! !
